

ultraphonic

Ultraphonic is a unique production music label, completely unlike any other. Almost entirely electronic, the label is fresh, distinctive, niche, high quality and very cool. Think warp records and ninja tune and you have the original DNA of the label and our sound.

We make music that we love rather than making standard library music or music by numbers. We use commercial artists (eg Gazelle Twin, Delia Gonzalez, Kid Loco, Forma, Zamilska, NYX) signed to our commercial music publishing company, D6 Music.

The real sonic alternative, drawn from the electronic underworld, shaped and presented by genuine electronic music originators; providing a unique source of music within a highly focused bandwidth; the creativity and quality of today's leading boutique record labels, in production ready format.

Our cutting edge sound design and sonic mutations have shaped ads and promotions for many brands, including Red Bull, Levis, Volkswagen and the award winning Blackcurrant Tango ad, and have been featured on TV & Film from all over the world on programmes as diverse as scandi noir series The Bridge, NBC's Girlfriend's Guide to Divorce, Vice on HBO, and the BBC's explosive thriller, The Night Manager.
